

Description of external programmes

For all activities on X-Force or game sets which exceed simple stories or scripting, additional and not included programmes are needed. This is especially the case, if new graphics or sound should be implemented.

On this page, a variety of external programmes which are useful for such tasks will be presented, in order to give an overview what programme could be most useful for certain tasks.

Beginning with a template, everyone can add his or her personal favourites according to this format. Please regard also the name pattern for the links, then the wiki can link and sort everything...
